

Information Session
December 3, 2025 at 7:30 p.m.

Radford University's School of Teacher Education & Leadership will host an information session on Wednesday, December 3rd, from 7:30-8:30 p.m., to discuss its graduate programs in Literacy, Mathematics, Curriculum & Instruction, Educational Leadership, Special Education, the Provisional to Professional Pathway, and the Doctor of Education program. This event is ideal for individuals currently working under a Provisional license or those interested in advancing their education with a master's degree, leadership certificate, or Doctor of Education.

The Provisional to Professional Pathway is now through April 1st, 2026, offering a $750 per course scholarship for the Professional Studies course offered through the pathway. We encourage all who are considering these opportunities to register and join the event at
