

Wayne D. Lett Scholar Program

Overview

The Wayne D. Lett Scholar Program is a merit-based award given to a Newport News Public School Senior who plans to be a teacher and will make a commitment to teaching in Newport News Public Schools upon college graduation. The $10,000 scholarship is disbursed in four $2,500 annual awards consisting of $1,750 per year from the NN Education Foundation and $750 per year from the Lett family. The Program is administered by the Newport News Education Foundation as a tribute to Wayne D. Lett, Ed.D., former superintendent of Newport News Public Schools, an outstanding educator who retired after 34 years of service in public education.

The student chosen as the Wayne D. Lett Scholar will receive an offer of employment as a teacher in the Newport News school system upon graduation from college. The recipient must commit to teach in Newport News for three consecutive years after graduation. The recipient will also have the option to complete a student teaching assignment in the school division.
